MEET THE DIRECTORS

MANNY BAINS

Manny is an Award-Winning Film director who is passionate about creating documentary films that spark a new conversation and challenge new schools of thought on pressing issues that affect the majority of society today. His last film (F.E.A.R: Face Everything And Rise) has attained over 40 awards and accolades from film festivals worldwide. He continues to pursue his passion of creating high quality films that create social change on global scale. Manny is also the founder of The Rising Star Movie Experience where he creates empowering documentary films for entrepreneurs to explode their brand and create worldwide exposure for their business.

SERGE VELBOVETS

Serge Velbovets is a Canadian award-winning writer and director. In his drama and documentary films, Serge explores important social problems such as economics and inequality (BREAK FREE), global women's rights (F.E.A.R.: Face Everything and Rise), the impact of new technologies (MOTHER) and others.

His current and future projects include THE NEURAL NETWORK, a dystopian web series that explores how the arising influence of artificial intelligence interferes with our everyday lives; THE HISTORY CLASS, a series about students who need to travel in each decade of the 20th century and find out how it impacted our current age, and several documentary films.

DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

"As a filmmaker and storyteller, I've always been captivated by the resilience of the human spirit. With The Cure: An Inside Job, I sought to uncover stories of healing that could empower people worldwide to take charge of their mental and physical health. This project is not just a film it's a call to action, a movement toward health, hope, and healing. My hope is that viewers will leave inspired to embrace holistic practices and advocate for their own well-being."

— Manny, Award-Winning Director

"As an award-winning filmmaker, my mission has always been to tell stories that matter. With The Cure: An Inside Job. I aim to shed light on the power of natural healing and mental health solutions that are often overlooked. This film is not just an exploration; it's an invitation for people to rediscover their capacity to heal and thrive naturally. I'm honored to share these transformative stories with the world."

— Serge Velbovets
